RE: Modular Containment System:

My Company, Servpro of E. Bellevue, Inc., purchased one of your modular containment systems several years ago. We have found this product to be effective, time saving, cost effective, and durable.

We have used the system extensively in mold mitigation and abatement applications and have been very pleased with the results. In fact, we recently purchased a second, larger containment system to support our growth in areas requiring this type of containment. Not only does the containment adapt to any site configuration requirement, look professional, and meet the Industrial Hygienist's protocol specifications, we've experienced a significant reduction in the time and materials required to construct our containments thereby adding to our "bottom line".

I heartily endorse this product to anyone in need of a quick, efficient, & effective means of building a containment structure.
